ABOUT SHARON TOOSON

Sharon Tooson is an accomplished inspirational author and motivational speaker. She embraces her journey with a true spirit and joy of the Lord as her strength.

Sharon's love for writing began at an early age, which has helped her push through many difficult challenges in her life. It is her unwavering faith that continues to magnify the Lord's Word in every aspect of her life, as you see evident in her writing. Sharon enjoys inspiring others through her testimony with sincere hopes that they too will begin their journey of writing their own story.

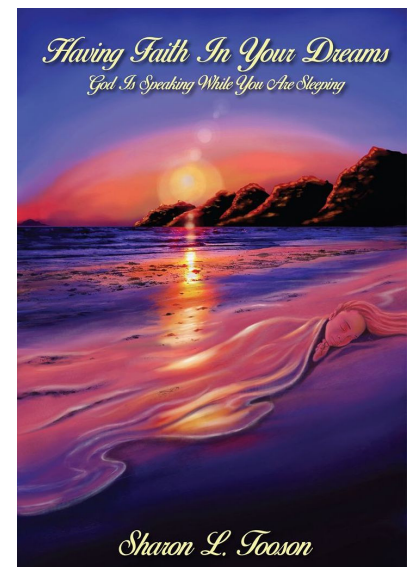

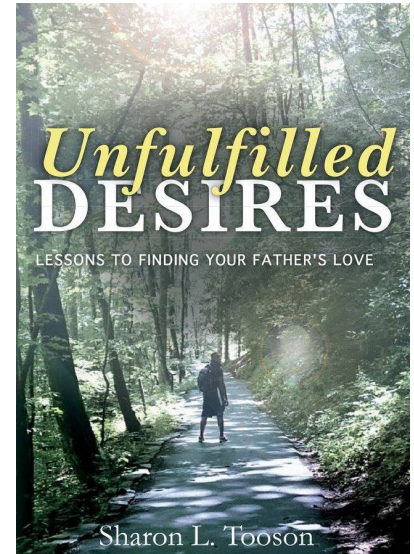

Under her publishing company, Tooson Town Publishing, Sharon self-published her first book, "Unfulfilled Desires: Lessons To Finding Your Father's Love". In "Unfulfilled", readers are transported back in time as she relives her testimony of overcoming the pain of fatherlessness. This book continues to incite a huge buzz with many churches and organizations, who request her lecture appearances on this socially unraveling topic.

Her latest book, "Having Faith in Your Dreams," introduces her divine gift of connecting the thought process in dreams with the clarity and wisdom God's word.

Sharon holds a Masters degree in Health Education from the University of Alabama, and resides with her husband, Darren, and their two children, Kyle and Faith, and their beloved dog Sammy in Georgia.
